THAYER AND NOTES PLUS VAN AMBURGH. Van Amburgh's calabrated "colossal goldan chariot," and no less calebrated brass band traversed our principal streets yesterday, heralding the arrival of the great circus and menagerie. The great combination of Theyer and Noyes with Van Amburgh, drove a smashing business yesterday afternoon and evening. They deserve to, for their exhibition combines the best circus and best menagerie of the world. We will not go into detail, but will merely advise all our readers to take an opportunity to see for doses. Herr. Mollenhauser, the great vio themselves to-day. Rov. Dr. Budington, A large audience gathered at the Stone church at half-past seven o'clock Tuesday evening, in response to the announcement in the afternoon papers that the Rev. Dr. Thompson, of the Tabernacle Church, New York, and the Rev. Dr. Budington, of Brooklyn, had just returned from the battlefields of Georgia and would give a statetogether with the distinguished ministers above referred to. After appropriate opening exercises the Rev. Dr. Budington was introduced and spoke at some length, out-lining the beneficent results of the efforts of the Christian Commission. He paid a high tribute to the great, though unacknowledged, efficiency and importance of their labor, and in connection with their influence upon the army he spoke of the contrast between the ungodly and the Christian soldier most elequently. He gave a fearfully graphic picture of the horrors of the battle-field and of the destitution of the Southern people, exhibiting in these facts the urgent necessity of prompt action on the part of the Christian Commis-

The Rev. Dr. Thompson was next intro duced. He referred in a very happy manner to the recent organization of a branch of the Christian Commission in this city. He described his recent visit to the front and the hearty welcome which he received from the soldiers. He gave a graphic picture of the Executive Committee.

B. P. BOWER, deplorable condition of refugees, and the cruelties which had been practiced on Union men in that region. The firmness characterising the New York market

The firm new characterising the case a tra-to-day for Figor and Wheat, aided by the great fall-ing off in receight, created a rather stronger feeling in this market than was observable perstandar, and apon Change and since prices ruled firmer. The in-quiry, however, for wheat is confined to the wants of tiers, as that of flour is to the local trade, and th transactions in the former should not be regarded as an index of the true status of the market, the prices an index of the true status of the market, the prices obtained being under such circumstances always conderably above what round one would bring. The wheat market is really much anattied, and until stripping lots begin to change hands, all quo'allons based simply up in the necessities of miliers, shou do regarded as the extreme of the market.
